Summary

Personally selected in 1999 by a member of a prominent So. Cal musical family, this Steinway M was signed by Henry Steinway at the factory as well as Roger Williams* at the owner's home, where the piano was a centerpiece for many memorable musical evenings!

Lovingly cared for, and fully prepped by us to concert specs, this is a tremendous value to price ratio for an instrument that packs a lot of power in a smaller footprint. Lovely, full rich tone and responsive action will please the discerning musician.

*Roger Williams burst upon the music scene in 1955 when he recorded Autumn Leaves, the only piano instrumental recording to reach #1 on the Billboard singles charts. His version, with more than 2 million sold, became an American classic and still stands as the greatest selling piano recording of all time.

Known as “Mr. Piano”, Roger Williams went on to receive 21 Gold and Platinum albums. He was the first pianist to receive a Star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, and was inducted into the Hit Parade Hall of Fame.
